A Persistent & Lethal Threat: White Supremacy in the United States

Friday, February 19 | 12:00 p.m.–1:00 p.m. ET

In order to confront what happened on January 6, it's necessary to take a closer look at the mostly white insurrectionists who rallied around white supremacist symbols.

This dialogue, featuring Brennan Center Fellow Michael German and other experts, will explore the ideologies of white supremacy, the groups that champion these beliefs, and the forums that enable these individuals to connect and grow their movements.

This event is produced in partnership with New York University's John Brademas Center.
