

Webinars et al. During February 2021

10 FEBRUARY:

The Criminal and Social Justice Cluster, at the School of Social Work and Strathclyde, are pleased to invite you to a Webinar on Wednesday, 10th February, between 12-1pm. Tia Simanovic (Strathclyde) will present findings from her doctoral research:

‘A Phenomenological Approach to Bereavement in Prison Research’.

You can book your place via Eventbrite.

22 FEBRUARY:

Rap lyrics in criminal trials: What does the case law tell us? Speaker: Abenaa Owusu-Bempah, LSE, 12.30-2pm. As part of the University of Edinburgh, Crime, Justice and Society Seminar series.

28 FEBRUARY:

Online Research Pathways for Early-Career Criminologists & Sociologists,

12-2pm (GMT). This lunchtime event is specifically aimed at Sociology and Criminology ECRs and PhDs, to address challenges and opportunities for online research in the digital age and during the current global pandemic.

+++++

JUST HUMANS PODCAST

In our latest episode of the Just Humans podcast Louise Brangan (Stirling) discusses her article, ‘Civilizing Imprisonment: The Limits of Scottish Penal Exceptionalism’ which was recently awarded the prestigious British Society of Criminology’s Brian Williams prize.

What makes one place that bit more special than somewhere else? In Scotland we often define ourselves to our big neighbour down south or look to Scandinavian nations to aspire to, often ignoring the complexities that can bring. To help us make sense of these issues, Louise tells us about her years spent digging through the archives in Scotland, Ireland and the United States to try and work out what being exceptional actually means in relation to punishment.

You can find us on most major platforms including Apple Podcasts, Spotify, SoundCloud and Google podcast

Please check out the SCCJR YouTube channel where you can find our Seminar series and Annual Lecture recordings. You can find these videos on the channel;

- Kate Herrity and Bethany Schmidt, 'Sensory Penalties.'
-
- Victoria Canning, 'Zemiology at the border: addressing asylum harms in Northern Europe.'
-
- Cara Jardine, 'Families, Imprisonment and Legitimacy: The Cost of Custodial Penalties' book launch.
-
- Biko Agozino, 'Counter-Colonial Criminology: The Decolonization of Neo-Colonial Reason'
-
- Rueben Jonathan Miller, 'Halfway Home: Race, Punishment and the Afterlife of Mass Incarceration.'

