

View in a browser

Your invitation to our "Direct entry detectives, police recruitment and training" seminar

This seminar is free and open to all. For registration and further details please click here.

After registering on Eventbrite, you will receive a confirmation email 24 hours before the event with information about joining the webinar.

Dear colleagues

The UCL Institute for Global City Policing and Canterbury Centre for Policing Research at Canterbury Christ Church University are pleased to announce the fourth and final event of their joint seminar online series. This exciting series continues to explore what current scientific research and evidence have to say about policing in the UK.

Date: Wednesday 9 June 2021

Time: 1400-1600 BST

Register here

Our speakers for this event are:

Dr Adrian James (Liverpool John Moores University) – 'An empirical evaluation of fast-track recruitment schemes. To what extent can they achieve their architects' aim of a more diverse and capable detective force in Britain?'

Prof Stephen Tong and Dr Martin O'Neill (Canterbury Christ Church University) – 'Responding to Workforce Transformation: Direct entry detective recruitment and training'

Dr Jyoti Belur (University College London) – 'Police readiness to adopt blended learning approaches in learning and development'

We look forward to welcoming you at this event.

Best wishes,

Ben Bradford Professor of Global City Policing

UCL Jill Dando Institute of Security and Crime Science

Join us on social media

UCL Department of Security and Crime
Science
University College London
35 Tavistock Square, London, WC1H 9EZ

Click to unsubscribe

UCL Department of Security and Crime
Science

This newsletter uses web beacons, which allow UCL to improve the service provided to our readers. Find out more