

Position Adverts

Internships / SCCJR KNOWLEDGE EXCHANGE OFFICER

Deadline for applications is 30th June. Note HJ Kerner: Perhaps a short preliminary application explaining the time problem may hopefully be helpful for becoming a (preliminary) candidate

Exciting Opportunities at SCCJR

Seeking x4 internships & Knowledge Exchange Officer Closes 30th June 2021!

SCCJR INTERNSHIPS

In support of the Scottish Centre for Crime and Justice Research's objectives, we are offering four internships for current postgraduate students at SCCJR institutions (Glasgow, Edinburgh, Stirling, Strathclyde).

Position 1, Web Intern will contribute to the redesign and redevelopment of the SCCJR website, involving engagement with past and present members and Associates of SCCJR, as well as International Affiliates

Position 2, External Engagement will support the work of the SCCJR's external engagement portfolio on topics such as hate crime, criminal justice under covid, and trans rights, involving liaison with external stakeholders

Position 3, International Networks will support the internationalisation portfolio by developing workshops and events in support of SCCJR's commitment to global and comparative criminology, decolonial imperatives, and international networks

Position 4, Research Development will work with the SCCJR Director to assist in the fostering of research collaborations between members of SCCJR in response to timely issues and current funding calls.

As part of the SCCJR team, interns will also contribute to the delivery of outputs such as publications, web content and a variety of events, such as lectures, seminars and academic roundtables. Interns will provide flexible support (up to a maximum of 8 hours per week) for a period of six months.

These posts are part time (7 hours per week) and is fixed term until 1st February 2022. Please apply by 30th June by completing the application process on the University of Glasgow's website.

*****

SCCJR KNOWLEDGE EXCHANGE OFFICER

Deadline for applications is 30th June

The Knowledge Exchange Officer will be responsible for developing and embedding knowledge exchange and impact activities across SCCJR and will seek to maximise the Centre's engagement with non-academic audiences and research users to create opportunities for impact. The role includes creating and maintaining a wide-ranging impact portfolio, ensuring strategic alignment with the Centre's wider objectives. The role demands a highly flexible and responsive approach given the complexity and time-sensitivity involved in managing both internal and external relationships in a professional manner.

The post will be particularly responsible for managing the external relations of the Centre, building strong productive relationships with non-academic partners, raising funds to support impact-related activities, develop and implement KE strategy in line with University values, line manage interns to ensure the production of timely and relevant outputs; and maintain a strong sense professional development to fulfil new requirements of the role as they emerge.

The post includes working with research and KE staff in SCCJR and with external stakeholders from academia, the public, private and third sectors. The KE Officer's work will involve sustaining existing partnerships as well as identification of new external partners and potential research users, with the aim of developing relationships resulting in new collaborative activities which deliver real-world impacts. The post will also require the post holder to manage budgets on specific projects and line manage temporary members of staff such as interns.

The role is 0.6FTE, Grade 6. Deadline for applications is 30th June. <https://www.jobs.ac.uk/job/CGK530/sccjr-knowledge-exchange-officer>

+++++

University of Brighton

Lecturers in Criminology x2

School of Applied Social Science

Location: Brighton - Falmer
Salary: £35,845 to £42,792 per annum
Closing Date: Sunday 11 July 2021
Reference: HA3181-21-173

This is a fantastic opportunity for you to join a dynamic group of Criminologists and to bring expertise that will add to and complement the critical and applied orientation of our team and the ongoing development of our programme. We are looking to appoint 2 full-time permanent posts and in addition we are seeking to cover short term periods of research leave.

In order to be successful in these roles, you will be able to demonstrate a sound commitment to excellence in teaching and an innovative approach to delivering the Criminology curriculum. We expect you to be able to teach research methods, have a good (1 or 2:1) first degree, in Criminology or a related/combined Social Science discipline, and preferably a PhD (or nearly completed).

These are 2 permanent, full-time posts to start in September 2021 and job sharers are welcome to apply.

We are committed to diversifying the racial and ethnic profile of our community, and especially welcome applications from Black, Asian and minority ethnic candidates. We are seeking colleagues who have an understanding of equality, diversity and inclusion and how these principles can be applied in HE settings. We value self-awareness, in terms of understanding candidates' own culture, identity, biases, prejudices, power, privilege and stereotypes, as well as a willingness to challenge practices that present barriers to different groups.

In return, the University offers a wide range of benefits, such as a generous annual leave package, including time off over the Christmas period, as well as travel loan schemes.

We anticipate interviews are likely to take place week commencing 9th August 2021.

Informal enquiries can be made to Matt Follett at: M.A.Follett@brighton.ac.uk

Email details to a friend

Apply Online

Further details: Job Description

The University is committed to an inclusive environment which embraces equality and diversity in our working, learning, research and teaching environment. We particularly encourage applicants from a Black, Asian and Minority Ethnic (BAME) background because the university is underrepresented by BAME staff.

Further information about working for us, as well as the wide range of benefits we offer, can be found in the working with us section of our vacancies page.