

Information about our upcoming international EFUS Conference on Security, Democracy and Cities, that will take place on 20, 21 & 22 October, 2021

Ladies and Gentlemen, as recipients of CCJ-News

The international Security, Democracy & Cities conference is organised by the European Forum for Urban Security (Efus) in Nice, France.

Efus' action is based on the belief that security is a common good that must be delivered with the participation of all relevant stakeholders in urban life and be founded on a balanced combination of prevention, sanction and social cohesion. The conference will address the issues of governance and its distribution between the different territorial levels and of the participation of the private sector and civil society, in particular citizens, in security policies.

During two and a half days, participants will discuss possible solutions to complement national and European responses to the challenges confronting cities, in particular the prevention of violent radicalisation, the fight against discrimination, the prevention of violence against women, victim support, urban planning, nightlife management, polarisation, technologies, climate change and security, etc. These topics will be addressed at plenary sessions or through workshops, discussion panels, master classes, training sessions, zoom sessions and field visits.

The conference will build on the knowledge and experience gained by Efus over more than three decades. Website : <https://efus.eu/efusconference2021/>
