

Call for Article Submissions

CARIBBEAN JOURNAL OF CRIMINOLOGY (CJC) One UWI Special Issue

The Special Issue

The Caribbean Journal of Criminology invites submissions for its 2023 ONE UWI Special Issue, which seeks to boost the collaboration between crime and violence researchers in the Caribbean spread across the Mona, St. Augustine, Cave Hill, Open and Five Islands Campuses of the University of the West Indies.

Information for authors

The CJC is multi-disciplinary and values diversity of perspectives. Contributions are invited from researchers regardless of their theoretical bent, methodology and disciplinary training.

Submitted papers should have either of the following.

- Co-authors who are staff and or student(s) from any faculty spread across two or more of the UWI campuses and at least one co-author should be associated with a governmental or non-governmental organization in an eastern or southern Caribbean nation. Many of these are also protocol, associate and overseas territories members within the Organization of Eastern Caribbean States. See here: <https://www.oecs.org/en/who-we-are/member-states>

Or

- Co-authors must be staff and or student(s) from any faculty spread across two or more of the UWI campuses and the paper must present findings from research in at least one eastern or southern Caribbean country.

Papers and Topics

Authors are invited to submit high-quality, unpublished, original academic essays, policy-focused essays, book reviews or commentary on theory examining topics including but not limited to the following:

- Physical and non-physical victimization pre and during the COVID-19 pandemic.
- Victimization associated with gang and non-gang membership.
- Results from evaluations of primary, secondary and tertiary level interventions.
- Criminal justice systems.
- Criminological theory.

Dates for Submissions

Deadline for the receipt of abstracts: February 15, 2023

Notification of acceptance: March 15, 2023

Full paper submission: June 1, 2023.

Submission Guidelines

The paper should be submitted electronically to cjc@uwimona.edu.jm and the email submission should bear the subject line:

CJC Submission: [Article Name]

Papers must be submitted in English and in MS Word. Authors are asked to ensure that the submitted manuscripts strictly adhere to guidelines found at

<https://dhjhkxawhe8q4.cloudfront.net/uwi-press-wp/wp-content/uploads/2020/01/09194642/guidelines-for-manuscript-submission-edited.pdf>

Once authors have submitted their paper, an email confirmation will be sent acknowledging receipt. A reference number will also be provided in the email which authors are encouraged to use in all related correspondence. Article submissions will be peer-reviewed.

Resources

The databank in the Sir Arthur Lewis Institute of Social and Economic Studies, Mona has datasets that may be useful to researchers. Please see here: <https://www.uwi.edu/salises-mona/section/data-sets-other-caribbean-territories>

The Caribbean Journal of Criminology

The Caribbean Journal of Criminology (CJC) is a peer-reviewed journal of The University of the West Indies (UWI) and aims to be the leading journal for researchers sharing their critical examination of people, places, institutions and relationships with offending in the region. The CJC is a unification of the Caribbean Journal of Criminology and Social Psychology and the Caribbean Journal of Criminology and Public Safety.

CJC is now published annually in December and marketed by UWI Press for the Institute of Criminal Justice and Security (ICJS) and has an Editorial Board comprising academics from UWI campuses and universities in North America, Europe, and other regions of the world.

Contact Details

Institute of Criminal Justice and Security*The University of the West Indies

The Editor
Caribbean Journal of Criminology
The Institute of Criminal Justice and Security
Regional Headquarters
The University of the West Indies
Tel: (876) 977-6275
For all journal queries: cjc@uwimona.edu.jm

All requests for permissions, journal reviews and subscriptions, back orders and claims should be directed to:

The University of the West Indies Press.
Nadine D. Buckland, Journal Publisher
Tel: (876)977-2659, (876) 702-4082
uwipress.journals@uwimona.edu.jm nadine.buckland@uwimona.edu.jm